

JAMES B. McNAMARA GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE; HIS BROTHER RECEIVES TERM OF FIFTEEN YEARS

CONFESSED DYNAMITER OF LOS ANGELES TIMES BUILDING IN WHICH TWENTY ONE MET DEATH TO SPEND REMAINDER OF DAYS IN PRISON.

LAST ACT IN THE DRAMA

Fifteen Years in San Francisco Prison is Time Allotted to His Brother For Blowing Up The Iron Works Last Christmas Day.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—James B. McNamara was given a life sentence on his plea of guilty of having blown up the Los Angeles Times building and was sentenced to San Quentin prison at 1:15 today.

John McNamara was given a fifteen year sentence in the same prison having pleaded guilty to blowing up the Llewellyn Iron Works last Christmas. His sentence was passed at 10:30 this morning.

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—John B. McNamara, confessed dynamiter and his brother John D. McNamara, confessed dynamiter, faced today the legal outcome of their own plea of guilty in sentences determined for them by Judge Walter D. Wood.

This ended the state's successful efforts to isolate from society the man who on Oct. 1, 1910 blew up the Los Angeles Times building causing the loss of 21 lives and the dynamiting of the Llewellyn Iron Works at which an explosion occurred on last Christmas Day.

For both men District Attorney John D. Frederick desired clemency. Life imprisonment being sought for James B. and a sentence of between 14 and 20 years for John J. the older brother to hold, this sentence until old age when he should regain his liberty.

From the announcement of the proposed plea for clemency came the information that the brothers had furnished information of great value in the investigation of an alleged far reaching dynamiting conspiracy and that the plan was to send them immediately after sentence was pronounced to appear before the federal grand jury now in session here.

To that body they are expected to give evidence which the district attorney declared they already had supplied to him with any more than that they may have.

The Confession.

James B. McNamara, confessed, pondered his own hand late yesterday gave many evidences of a man little skilled in letters was made public today. It is as follows:

I, James B. McNamara, defendant in the case of the people having heretofore pleaded guilty to the crime of murder desire to make this statement of facts:

And this is the truth:

On the night of Sept. 30th, 1910, at 5:45 p. m. I placed in ink alloy a portion of the "Times" building a suit case containing 10 sticks of 80 dynamite set to explode at 1:00 o'clock the next morning.

It was my intention to injure the building and send the owner, I did not intend to take the lives of anyone. I sincerely regret that those unfortunate lost their lives. If the giving of my life would bring them back I would gladly give it. Including the crime of murder in the first degree I have placed my life in the hands of the state.

Signed JAMES B. McNAMARA.

Independent Ore Operators Much Pleased with the Stanley Investigation.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Duluth, Dec. 5.—P. H. Nelson, independent iron ore operator who has just returned from Washington where he was a witness before the Stanley Committee stated: "I am of the opinion that the interstate commerce commission will further repeat the iron ore rates in Minnesota and am convinced that the reduction will be about 40c a ton. The cost of operation and the M. I. A. B. road is about 35% of the gross earnings."

FAILED TO DECIDE INCOME TAX CASE

STATE SUPREME COURT DOES NOT RENDER ITS VIEWS ON THIS QUESTION AS EXPECTED.

OTHER OPINIONS GIVEN

Several Milwaukee Cases Are Decided—Socialists Lose in Their Contentions.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, Dec. 5.—The Wisconsin supreme court did not decide the constitutionality of the income tax today but it is expected that a decision will be handed down when the court meets in two weeks.

The court dismissed both appeals in the case in which Thomas J. Noney sued Victor Berger and the Socialist Democratic Herald. Berger refused to answer certain questions on the ground that he might incriminate himself and he was sustained by the lower court.

In case No. 112 the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company won its case in which the city administration sought to collect a large amount of back taxes the judgment of the lower court is affirmed.

The supreme court held in case No. 117 Johnson versus city of Milwaukee that C. A. Muller's appointment as street superintendent was not legal and that the appointment of commissioner H. B. Briggs was legal.

The importance of this opinion lies in its effect in making some three million dollars worth of street improvement valid. Muller must take a civil service examination if he would retain his position.

Review of Proceedings.

There were two cases before the court, both of them "taxpayer" actions, one coming on appeal from the Dane county circuit court. The principal suit was brought by Harry W. Bolens of Port Washington, plaintiff, against Secretary of State James A. Frazier, State Treasurer A. H. Dahl, and the members of the state tax commission, Nils P. Haugen, Thomas H. Lyons and Thomas S. Adams. Attorney General Harcourt refused permission to bring this suit in the name of the state, and thereupon the same petition was presented to the supreme court, which granted leave to bring action. The state officials as defendants demurred to the complaint, alleging the court had no jurisdiction and that the action was against the state of Wisconsin whose consent to be sued had not been given.

Violates Guarantees.

The plaintiff, represented by Carpenter & Posa, Milwaukee, in presenting his case argued that the method of taxing individuals violates the constitutional guarantees as to uniformity of taxation and equal protection of the laws, that the method of taxing corporations "flies directly in the face of decisions of this honorable court," and that other "numerous flaws" emphasize the unconstitutionality of the entire act. It was argued that the classification of individuals violates the constitution; that there is double taxation in taxing the income of land, which was called taxation of the land itself; that non-residents having no exemptions by the act violates the constitutional clause providing that citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens of the several states; that the classification of corporations violates the constitution in that the distinction between corporations and individuals in the law would destroy the rule of uniformity and thus infringe upon another certain section of the state constitution.

Power of Commission.

The act was also called void in respect to the delegation by the legislature to the state tax commission of the power to fix salaries of the assessors and their assistants who are state officers. It was charged that the provisions abolishing the office of county supervisor of assessment and conveying his powers upon the assessor of income for the district violates the constitution. The rule to local self-government. The alleged impossibility of compliance was set up, and it was urged that the income tax cannot be levied on income earned upon property not situated within the state but received by a resident of Wisconsin. It was declared the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution is violated in the graduated and progressive features which are based on wealth, resulting, it was said, in discrimination which denies to citizens the equal protection of the laws.

Enters Objection.

Gen. P. C. Winkler, Milwaukee, appearing amicus curiae, submitted a brief objecting to allowing a "taxpayer" action to be employed for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of a law, declaring the courts should not entertain the question of the validity of a statute unless it becomes necessary to pass upon actual matters of right which are the true subjects of controversy.

"The court must not make itself an adjunct of the legislature, forcing a sort of referendum to itself as to whether the acts of that body shall stand or not," he said.

Miller, Mac & Fairbank, Milwaukee, filed a brief as amicus curiae protesting the act is unconstitutional because the tax is levied upon receipts from interstate and foreign commerce, and is therefore a regulation of interstate commerce in violation of the constitution.

Other Briefs.

Lines, Spooner, Ellis & Quarles, Milwaukee, as amicus curiae declared the act discriminates against residents and in favor of non-residents, and taxes persons owning personal property at a different rate from those owning none.

Other briefs were filed as amicus curiae by David S. Vogel, Chicago,

CHINA IS ENTERING A POLITICAL CHAOS

LACK OF COHESION, FUNDS, AND REAL LEADER HALT WORTHY AIMS.

REBELS AWAIT DR. SEN

Rebel Leader Claims Right to Appoint Temporary Premier Pending Election of President.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Shanghai, China, Dec. 5.—Each day brings keener apprehensions that China is drifting into a political chaos. Although the fundamental aims of the present revolutionary movement are worthy they are brought to naught by lack of cohesion, lack of funds and lack of a real leader.

Wait a Leader.

The situation inspires the most pessimistic forebodings from impartial observers. The revolutionary junta here are now marking time awaiting the arrival of Dr. Sun Yat Sen who is expected at any moment.

It is hoped he may prove to be the leader whom every one is seeking. If he can line up the various revolutionary chiefs and unify the movement a solution of China's troubles may be hoped for.

Cause For Desertions.

The fall of Hun Yang last week proves to have been due entirely to wholesale desertions of rebel troops enrolling in the Nan province.

Some say that the soldiers were brought by Yuan Shih Kai, but most persons attribute the desertion to the old time jealousy between the people of Hun and the Peh.

The desertions would probably have been prevented had a strong person been in command of the situation. The rebel leader Huang Hsing who was at Wu Chang as second in command to general Li Yuan Hong asserts that he has been given the right to name a temporary premier or dictator to act pending the election of a president.

He is now making plans he says for an overland advance on Peking through Shan Tun provinces.

WATERWAY CONGRESS MEETS AT CAPITAL

Will Be Attended By Congressmen, Diplomats And Men High In Official Life Of The Nation.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—Senators, representatives, diplomats and other persons high in official life are here to take part in the eighth annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which will meet tomorrow for a session of three days. At the concluding sessions of the congress the participants will include the nine Western States governors who are making a tour of the Eastern cities. The representative attendance and the wide range of subjects scheduled for discussion combine to give promise of one of the most notable gatherings ever assembled in the history of this country in the interest of waterway development.

The congress is national in its purpose, representing all sections and all waterways. Representative Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana is the president of the body and will occupy the chair at the several sessions. Secretary of War Stimson and Gen. Bixby, chief of engineers, U. S. A., will represent the government. Senator Jones of Washington will speak for the Pacific Northwest, and Stephen M. Sparkman of Florida, chairman of the House committee on rivers and harbors, will be another prominent participant. Others on the program will include the presidents of the leading waterway and river improvement associations throughout the country. The speakers will endeavor to impress upon the Sixty-second Congress, whose leaders are demanding economy, that there is a widespread sentiment throughout the country for a continuance of generous appropriations for improved waterways.

Milwaukee and Detroit were candidates and the actual selection was expected to be made tomorrow.

BURGLARS AT WORK IN CLINTON STORES

Thieves Escape With Nearly $40 In Cash Registers In Two Stores Saturday Night.

Clinton, Dec. 5.—Clinton was again visited by burglars Saturday night, who gained entrance to the stores of Hamilton & Company and Wilkins & Son, and secured in the neighborhood of $20 in change from each register. Entrance was made at each place by breaking a window glass out of a back window and going out through the rear door. Night watch Baldwin discovered the back doors unlocked when he made his rounds at a quarter of two.

SHOPPING PARTIES IN VOGUE

Shopping parties are the new-out of town stunts. One or two women phone a few intimate friends and all meet down town at some certain store and go on a shopping tour.

These parties afford an opportunity for visiting while looking at the beautiful holiday goods. Of course, a luncheon at one of the members home is a feature that few women can resist.

Shoppers have time now to explain and show goods. A little later the rush will be on. Have you been to a shopping party?

Why not get one up for Thursday or Friday?

OVER MILLION AND A QUARTER WILL BE SPENT ON HIGHWAYS

State Highway Commission in State of 1912 State Aid Work State 550 Miles of Improved Road Will Be Built.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Dec. 5.—The state highway commissioner has issued a statement of 1912 state aid work. It shows that the total sums voted by towns and counties under the new state aid law amounted to $454,417, the total to be voted by counties $454,417, and state aid $350,000, making a total fund of $1,258,834.

Over 500 Miles.

Road aid voted by some five hundred towns and counties amounts to $102,061, and the sum of $52,353 was voted for bridge aid by about one hundred and twenty-three towns. These towns equal the total amount voted by towns and counties.

The total road work equals about hundred and fifty miles. The value of the new bridge work, involving the construction of one hundred and sixty-five bridges in one hundred and twenty-three towns in thirty-nine counties, is about $150,000.

Million And Quarter.

Six counties will do no work under state aid. Seventeen counties operate under the old highway commission law, and the value of their work is $530,000. Twenty-two counties, acting under the new county highway commission law, have projected road work valued at $661,834, and twenty-six counties, which ask for highway supervision by the state, have proposed improvements of the value of $161,000, making a total of $1,258,834 value of work for the coming year.

PROHIBITIONISTS ARE FIRST IN THE FIELD

National Committee Meets in Chicago Tomorrow To Set Date And Place Of Party Convention.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5.—Confidence in the ultimate success of the prohibition cause and enthusiasm over the outlook for the coming national campaign formed the keynote of a great gathering of prohibition party leaders and temperance reformers which assembled in this city today. The meeting here tomorrow of the prohibitionists national committee is the magnet that has served to attract the foes of liquor from all parts of the country. At this meeting the committee will fix the time and place for holding the national convention to name the party candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States. Following precedent, the convention probably will be held the latter part of May or early in June. Chairman Jones and other influential members of the committee are said to favor the proposal to hold the convention in the far West, Portland and Seattle are under consideration. No decision will be reached, however, until after a thorough discussion of the matter. In addition to the Pacific coast cities the committee will consider bids from Milwaukee, Detroit, Boston and several other places.

TRUSTS SOLE TOPIC OF TAFT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS TODAY

TRUST QUESTION IS ONE OF ALL-ABSORBING INTEREST TO NATION'S EXECUTIVE.

DEFEND SHERMAN LAW

But Declares That It Should Be Supplemented by Federal Incorporation Act and Other Enactments.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Taft's third annual message to Congress, devoted exclusively to the Sherman anti-trust act and the trust question in general was read in Congress today.

The President defended the Sherman act as interpreted by the Supreme court of the United States, indicated plainly his opposition to the repeal or amendment of this statute, but suggested that Congress pass a federal incorporation law and supplemental legislation that "would describe and denounce methods of competition that are unfair."

To supervise corporations chartered under federal law, President Taft proposed the creation of an executive bureau, or commission, with powers akin to those of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Speaking of the much discussed dissolution of the Tobacco Trust, the President declared that in his opinion "not in the history of American law has a decree more effective for such a purpose been entered by a court."

Laws to Assist.

Portions of his message of January 1910 proposing Federal incorporation were referred to in this message. "I renew" continued the President, "the recommendations of the enactment of a general law providing for the voluntary formation of corporations to engage in trade and commerce among the states and with foreign nations. It is even more manifest now than it was then that the denunciation of conspiracies in restraint of trade should not, and does not, mean the denial of organizations large enough to be entrusted with our interstate or foreign trade, it has been made more clear now than it was then that a purely negative statute like the anti-trust law may well be supplemented by specific provisions for the building up and regulation of legitimate national and foreign commerce."

Need Exact Statutes.

The supplemental legislation, the President desires, he explained in a paragraph, "the attempt and purpose to suppress a competitor by underselling him at a price unprofitable as to drive him out of business, or the making of exclusive contracts with customers under which they are required to give up associations with other manufacturers and stifling competition and effecting monopoly, should be described with sufficient accuracy in a criminal statute on the one hand, and the government should shorten its task by prosecuting single misdemeanors instead of an entire conspiracy, and, on the other hand, to serve the purpose of pointing out more in detail to the business community what must be avoided."

Mr. Taft did not attempt to set forth the details the federal incorporation act he recommended but suggested that combinations of capital allowed to become federal corporations should be subject to rigid rules as to organization and procedure, including effective publicity, and to the "closest supervision" as to stock and bond issues by the proposed executive bureau or commission in the Commerce and Labor Department.

Federal Incorporation.

Federal incorporation, the President declared, would not only come under the Sherman act for illegal acts. Such an act, could be framed so as to prevent "vexatious and unnecessary invasion by the states" but yet permit control by the states with respect to purely local business. The courts should be empowered, the President said, to invoke the aid of the Bureau of Corporations in determining the suitable reorganization of corporations dissolved by decrees. This work, he pointed out, might be entrusted to the proposed supervisory commission which "should be an executive tribunal, of the dignity and power of the Comptroller of the Currency or the Interstate Commerce Commission."

The fact that it dealt with only one subject, that it was comparatively brief, and that accompanying it was an appendix showing trust prosecutions instituted by all administrations since the enactment of the Sherman Act in 1890, made the message unusual. According to this appendix seven suits were brought under this act in the administration of President Harrison; eight in Mr. Cleveland's second term; three under President McKinley; forty-four under Mr. Roosevelt in about seven and one half years, and 37 so far, in the Taft administration.

Defends Sherman Law.

The President frequently expressed his opinion of the Sherman law and what might be expected if it were to be repealed. He says: "The anti-trust act is the expression of the effort of a freedom loving people to preserve equality of opportunity."

"This statute as construed by the Supreme Court must continue to be the line of distinction for legitimate business. It must be enforced unless we are to banish individualism from all business."

"More size is no sin against the law."

"Much is said of the repeal of this statute and of constructive legislation intended to accomplish the purpose (Continued on Page 6.)

DISCUSSED PLANS FOR NEXT POULTRY SHOW

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night By Officers and Members of Southern Wisconsin Association.

Plans for the fourth annual exhibition of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry Association to be held at the West Side Hotel, January 15 to 20, were discussed last evening at an enthusiastic meeting of members and officers held at the McVicar store. The most important business brought before the meeting was the report of the committee which has been soliciting special premiums from the business of the city. They reported a very gratifying response. Although they were disappointed in some instances where they expected help, premiums were offered in others where they had least been expected. Most of the premiums have now been paid in. The committee which has been soliciting them consists of J. D. King, Clarence Hemmons, and W. H. Ashcraft.

The regular premiums will, as in former years, consist of percentages of the total cash entry fees. The premium list will be placed in the hands of the printer some time this week, and will be ready for distribution December 15. All who desire a copy then can secure one by addressing P. H. Green, secretary of the association.

A bigger and better show than the previous year has been the aim of the association ever since it held its first exhibition, and this year's will show that they have put particular emphasis on that idea. More silver cup premiums will be offered than ever before. An entry list of two thousand birds, an increase of twenty-five per cent over last year is expected and being planned for.

Edward Ameringer's proposition to decorate the exhibition hall has been accepted and that place will, on this occasion appear more attractive than it ever has previously. Green foliage, flowers, potted plants, and banners will be used. Special attractions are now being considered and a member of the association will go to Chicago this week in an endeavor to secure one of unusual novelty and interest.

Charles V. Keckler, of Wisconsin, will be chief judge at the exhibition. His assistant has not yet been chosen.

The association is not in any way a profit making, or profit seeking body. Its recent incorporation was as a non-dividend sharing company. Its sole object is the promotion of poultry breeding and the poultry industry. Its officers serve without pay. As such an organization it is entitled to state aid, which the statutes provide shall be forty per cent of the actual cash premiums paid at the last exhibition, not to exceed $200. The association's share of the state aid this year would have amounted to about $100, but this was not granted them because of the statutory provision that before aid is given the association must first have held one show under the terms of the act.

relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapensin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the toilet with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and liver are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Bloating or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapensin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranks about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

Attorneys Here Today: Among attorneys here today were: Arthur Cunningham, C. Ross, H. W. Adams, C. D. Ross, Cornelius Buckley, and T. D. Woolsey, all of Beloit; Justice North and G. W. Blanchard of Edgerton, and E. H. Hawley of Clinton.

Valuable Literary Find.
Some time ago an interesting literary find was made in the archives of the Bible house in London. It consisted of George Borrow's correspondence with the officials of the society during the time that he served as its agent, and comprises more than a hundred autograph letters, which are said to betray Borrow's characteristic style.

CARDINALS TRYING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

By Winning Three Games From The Reds Last Night Their Average Cannot Be Passed.

Probably the Cardinals are now the champion bowlers of the city as they won three straight games from the Reds last night at Tackett's alley. They have now such a lead that it will be almost impossible for them to be passed by any of the others and should they win the only other match which they have to play next week they will have their position practically clinched.

Last night's match was full of interest and the Cardinals did some fine bowling in all three games. Sutherland of the Reds, however, started out by rolling 231 and breaking the record of the season so far. O'Donnell has held the record up to last night with a score of 224, but in now second, and Craft, with 214, comes third. Some of the highest game scores were rolled by the Cardinals last night which have been reached this season, 780, approaching the record, and 781 coming in close. Also the grand total of the Cardinals was very high, reaching the number of 2294 points for the team in the three games.

The scores as rolled by the two teams were as follows, and show the results of the bowling:

CARDINALS
W. Holbe	181 123 161
Thourot, capt.	119 133 160
A. Grady	102 164 142
Plechor	172 175 174
Gilson	150 184 200
Total	721 784 780-2294

REDS
Craft, capt.	127 134 140
Knutholt	127 103 141
Chell	162 143 118
Wilson	117 121 130
Sutherland	138 231 121
Total	671 732 674-2077

The standing of the teams at present is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	P. C.
Cardinals	10	8	.703
Groys	14	10	.583
Blues	12	12	.500
Reds	13	14	.482
Browns	10	14	.410
Maroons	7	17	.292

Tonight at the alley the Browns and Maroons will meet together and decide whether there will be a tie to play off or whether the Browns will win out. If the Maroons can win the three games they will tie the Browns but if they lose a game they will be the last of the league.

GRACE BAIRD STOCK COMPANY AT MYERS

Audience Was Pleased With Opening Performance of Repertory Company Last Evening.

There was a good audience at the Myers Theatre last evening for the opening attraction played by the Grace Baird company which will be at the local theatre for the remainder of the week.

Miss Baird was a surprise to a great many but a pleasant one for unlike the majority of women in repertory, who are possessed of more than mediocre ability. She works at the same time in a very natural way which at once gains the confidence and sympathy of the audience.

McLain Gates and Oscar O'Brien, Miss Baird's two leading supports are above the average popular priced actors and gave finished performances. Patsy Barrett as Job Jenkins and Eleanor Carlisle as Aunt Judith furnished some real hearty laughs without resorting to slap stick methods. Messrs. Mortimer, Bryan and Hicks handled their respective parts in a manner that reflects to their credit.

Tonight's attraction will be the four act ethical problem play entitled "A Better Way."

The Woman Who's to Be Pitied. The woman who goes out into the world full of wonderful sights and of many people and not knowing how to look comes back with just as little knowledge as when she first starts out. The woman who complains of being awkward and yet has never looked about for graceful people that she might imitate them. The woman who talks of seeing disagreeable faces, rude people, and unhappiness because she has not looked for pleasant people and goodness and kindness in the world. There would be fewer empty hearts if there were more occupied minds and busier bodies. Both the body and the mind are restless when they have nothing to do. Keep busy, exercise, stir around. Activity is the law of the universe. Even the world has to take its daily exercise and turn itself about.

Chains that Habits Weave. Epictetus said some good things about habits. He points out in his "Manual" that every sin does not lie in a definite grain in the sand-mountain which make up our daily life; that each time we are angry or over-extended, we are adding fuel to a fire and violence to the needs of a disease.

Hungarian City's Bad Record. What is believed to be the world's record for divorce cases is held by the Hungarian city of Arad. Last year's statistics show that 250 divorces were tried by the courts and 210 divorces granted. At present there are 840 divorce cases awaiting trial. Arad has fewer than 20,000 inhabitants.

Climatic Peculiarity. Montreal, with its winters of great severity, is 350 miles nearer the equator than is London. Montreal, indeed, is on the same degree of latitude as Venice.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. The area of high atmospheric pressure that was crossing the Mississippi valley yesterday has now reached the Appalachian mountain region. It is attended by generally fair weather throughout the Central and Southwestern states. The barometric depression in western Canada is practically stationary, but a trough extends from it southward over the Rocky Mountain region to another depression that is central over Arizona. A new center of atmospheric disturbance is likely to develop in this trough and move eastward causing warmer weather in this vicinity tonight, becoming unsettled and possibly rainy by Wednesday in the Canadian provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but chinook weather prevails farther west. Rain has fallen along the Pacific coast.

Biggest Racing Gains. The largest amount that is ever known to be won by a single individual on an event was $100,000. This was the sum that Mr. Naylor realized over the Derby years ago. Mr. Chaplin perhaps won a larger sum on Hermit, but a lot of it was on paper. Mr. J. Corlett, in the London Cassell's Saturday Journal.

ORIENTAL RUGS

A Christmas present that is Different is always a pleasing gift, both to giver and receiver.

Why not an Oriental Rug for your wife or daughter, or one for the library or den for the husband?

WE ARE NOW SHOWING THE MOST BEAUTIFUL COLLECTION OF ORIENTAL RUGS we have ever shown, and they are very reasonable in price, too. Some of the choicest specimens of the weaver's art are to be found here, a selection wide and varied, rugs with a sheen and lustre that command admiration and surprise, to think human hands could weave anything so beautiful. The rugs come from the different districts of the Orient noted for their famous weaves and include:

Handsome Belouchians, Silky Faraghans, Serabands, Irans, Sarukis, Kirmanis, Tabriz, Hatchli, Bokara Kabistans, Ghonji Princess Bokara and hundreds of other beautiful rugs. Kazis are well represented. These rugs are very heavy and wear a life time.

A Few Suggestions to Purchasers of Oriental Rugs---The Alphabet of Common Sense

A room should be a pyramid, in the value of its colors and the form of its ornament.

BUILD UP from the base, not down from the apex, unless you want your home to stand on its head.

EVERY ROOM should have its own charm, but rooms shouldn't be a succession of stocks.

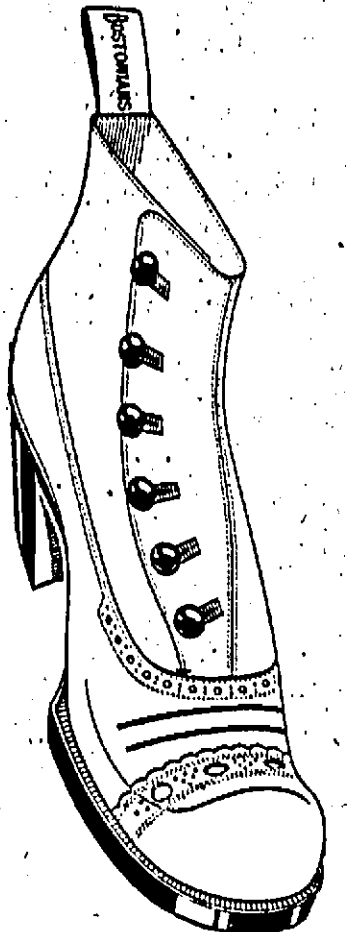

KEEP IN MIND the general effect you desire. The detail will adjust itself when the walls are selected.

Leave curtains and bric-a-brac until the last. Ordinarily a room shouldn't be made to match a vase.

Old rugs do not always look old, unless you are a "collector," get the tone you want, and let the pedigree go.

TALES—Arabian Nights Tales—about a rug, have no decorative value unless it will make your home a more enjoyable place to live in, leave it for the collector.

IMPORTANT. Bear in mind that under the new law dry goods stores are compelled to close each day except Saturday, at 6 o'clock. Saturday the stores are open until half past nine, thus there are but three more evenings to shop before Christmas.

REHBERG'S

YOU will never be urged to buy here; we're interested in the pleasure of providing the shoes for your feet; in showing our goods. If you want them we'll be glad to sell them to you.

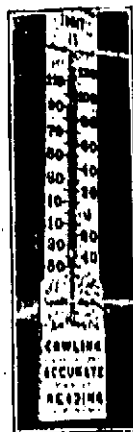

YOU'LL find here the really greatest stock of fine shoes ever brought together in Janesville. It will be an education in shoes to you if you'll come here to see them. Especially the marvelous values we show, for men and women, at $3.50 and $4.00.

THE CRIMINAL LAW.

Carl Snyder contributes an article to the current issue of "Collier's" on the "monstrous breakdown of the criminal law." Among the startling figures which it contains are the following:

"There are more than 100,000 murderers now living in the United States, of whom more than three-fourths have never been imprisoned for their crimes.

"Last year in New York City the coroner reported 185 homicides; the grand jury considered 119, and there were 45 convictions—one in four.

"In ten years, 1,161 murders have been investigated by the grand jury—probably but little more than half of the actual number done—and there have been 382 convictions. Say one in four or five.

"In Chicago last year there were 202 murders reported; one was hanged, 15 sent to prison, 186 went free. This is nearly nine out of ten.

"Yet the courts of New York and Chicago represent a high average, far above the rest of the country.

"In Texas the editor of the 'Journal of the American Institute of Criminal Law' estimated there have been over 2,000 murders in the last two years. There were 1,048 indictments.

"In Dallas county alone there were 56 murders in one year, 23 indictments, one conviction—sentence, five years.

"In Harris county 40 murders; none hanged.

"And these are fair samples. In the state of Alabama, for the two years of 1909-10, 630 murder cases were tried; 27 death sentences—one in 23. About all the hangings, of course, were of negroes.

"In the city of Louisville, Kentucky, 1910, 47 murders; no hangings.

"For the whole country 8,975 murders in 1910; in 1909, 8,103. Hanged for murder in 1910, 94. Say one in 90."

It is quoted from many eminent judges to prove that they are powerless to remedy conditions, as justice is often defeated by the granting of a new trial. A committee of investigation from the American Bar association found that forty-six per cent of all the cases were granted a new trial.

The country just now is incensed over the Los Angeles crime, and California justice, which has never been very satisfactory, will be watched with a good deal of interest. Our criminal courts are not in keeping with the progress of the age.

DUE TO EXTRAVAGANCE.
A writer for a paper down in Indiana waxes up some of the causes for the high cost of living, and finds that extravagance is largely responsible. He says:

"Modern retail business is not conducted along the same lines it was a dozen years ago—or twenty years ago. The housewife no longer takes her basket and journeys to the grocery, selects her food, pays for it and acts as her own delivery boy. She uses the telephone. She insists upon fruit and vegetables out of season; she has it charged; she has it delivered to her back door. For these luxuries—for luxuries they are—she must pay. If the fruit is out of season, then it must have been ripened artificially or kept in cold storage, and this work is done by commission men who charge the groceryman, who in turn adds the charge to his customers.

"Look into every detail of modern living. How many men today shine their own shoes? How many men who live over ten blocks from their places of business walk instead of riding on a street car? How many go home for the midday meal? How many shave themselves?

"Whence comes the money for the manicurist? For the countless shining parlors? For the multiplying barber shops? Why the ever increasing automobile trade? Twelve million people rode on Indiana Interurbans last year. Twice that number rode on local street car lines within the state. The man today who wears a 'hand-me-down' suit is the object of derision. He at least must have it made to measure. Who pays for the moving picture shows? Who makes the vaudeville a profit? A hundred thousand stand in line to buy seats in the bleachers prior to the world's baseball championship series. The number of pianos sold on the installment plan would reach twice around the equator. We have more saloons than we have groceries and more cigar stores than either.

"We demand hot and cold water, a bath, electric lights, janitor service, with an ice chest and a range thrown in. Where is the family who would put up with the 'good old days' when we jumped out of bed and had to break the ice in a pitcher in order to perform our morning ablutions? Where is the family who is content to 'swish off' in the family bath tub; a la Diogenes? What proud head of the household is content to do without hardwood floors and submit to the indignity of the old-fashioned rag carpet?

"High cost of living is due to many factors, and it is too high. But is it due to the greed of those who sell, or to the extravagance of those who buy?"

TEETH NOT A LUXURY.

"False teeth are a necessity, not a luxury, and a husband is legally bound to furnish them for his wife, if she needs them. This is not the opinion of a medical or humane society, but the solemn verdict of the supreme court of Wisconsin. Unless an appeal is taken to the United States supreme court, on the ground that this decision deprives the husband of life, liberty or property without due process of law, and therefore unconstitutional, this pronouncement will stand as the law of the land. The Journal of the American Medical Association says that it is doubtful if there is any other state which has thus safeguarded the rights of its feminine citizens. Married women in Wisconsin, a should at once move to Wisconsin."

The budget, state is noted for a lot of freak laws, which are about as important as the one referred to above, and yet the state is exploited as a model of reform.

A bill introduced by Congressman Each, is now pending in congress, which prohibits the use of poisonous phosphates in the manufacture of matches. This peculiar poison produces among the workmen in the factories a disease known as "phosphy jaw," more loathsome than leprosy, and incurable. Why manufacturers do not voluntarily abandon the use of it is difficult to understand. The bill should be passed, and the law rigidly enforced.

The political campaign, inaugurated in Washington yesterday, promises all sorts of entertainment for the winter. The important question, demanding first consideration, is, "Will Roosevelt be in the running, or will he not?" Nobody seems to know but the colonel, and he don't exactly know. Much depends. The president is in the hands of his friends, and they are a little wobbly. La Follette is full of confidence, and the democrats are interested spectators. If legislation gets anywhere it will be an accident.

People who have enjoyed cursing John D. Rockefeller, will be obliged to transfer their vocabulary to John D. Archbold, the new president of the Standard Oil company. Mr. Rockefeller has retired from active business, and many of his old associates in Standard Oil retired with him. Younger men will take up the work and there will be no shortage of oil or criticism.

The written confession of James B. McNamara is far from satisfactory. He implicates no one but himself and claims the credit of planning and executing the plot alone. That sort of loyalty to conspirators may be commendable; but the issues in this case are too serious to be trifled with. The government, as well as the people, propose to find out whether anarchy shall continue to thrive on American soil.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Oh, joy! I'm glad I ain't no millionaire.

For I kin trot round anywhere And do just what I bloomin' please, And when I'm takin' 'em of my case, No interviewers bother me.

And write more than they really see, No muckrakers are on my trail To try and land me in jail. They don't hang round and stare and snap And twist my doings out of shape.

When I go out and buy some pills They do not diagnose my ills. And say that I have lived too fast, And take up doin' of my past. Each time I chance to turn around, And pry into my private life, And tell about my early strife To win Dame Fortune's gladsome smile.

In headlines you can read one mile, I'm quite content just as I am, As happy as the storied clan. The wrestling match I have with Fate Appeals to me. It's simply great. I've heard that idleness is crime, So I keep workin' all the time. And so you see I don't care Because I'm not a millionaire. For all philosophies forbid, It wouldn't matter if I did.

IT'S A MORAL CINCUS.
That the fellow who calls you up at 2 a. m., on the telephone by mistake, is going to call you down. He is going to say: "What? Ain't this six-o'clock-sixty-six? Well, why in blazes ain't it?"

That the pie that comes home from the grocery is going to have a crinkled top and part of the edge peeled off.

That the telephone is going to be busy for half an hour when you want to get your wife in a hurry.

That the fellow is going to marry the girl before you get to the end of the book.

That the good things on the quick lunch bill of fare are going to be gone before you get there.

That your automobile is going to balk just as soon as you pick up someone to whom you have been praising your car all summer.

That the lady with the large hat will get peeved at you when she runs onto you and twists it out of shape.

"Say, does this car run down by the depot, and can you tell me if No. 17 from the north is on time?"

"I am looking for a fellow named Smith, and I thought I might get to his house if I got on this car. Where does he live?"

"Can you punch my transfer two hours ahead so I can do a little shopping down town?"

"Did a woman in a green hat come downtown with you trip before last?"

"I don't know whether this is the place where I want to get off or not. Can't you hold the car for me while I run into that house on the corner and inquire?"

THE STORY OF A STORY.
A short time ago, we stood at the tomb of the great Napoleon. No, that isn't what we wished to say. We are getting mixed up with finger-rolls. A short time ago, we stood in front of a mailbox with a short story in our hand and a publisher's address on the envelope. It wasn't such a short time ago, either. It was, to be exact, nine or ten years ago, but nineteen years ago, too, long when, compared with doggone kind story. We knew it was and all of our folks knew it was. All of the boys down at the village store had laughed themselves sick over it, and the local paper said we were writing for the mags, but the mags didn't know it. They were to find it out later. It was to come in the nature of a surprise to them; a pleasant surprise, no doubt.

Well, in the course of three months, the story came back. That, by the way, is the best thing that story does. Jim Jeffries couldn't do it; but our story can do it. It always comes back and with it comes a neatly typed regret from the editor. The editor loves us and all of our folks, and he knows that we are going, some day, to sparkle and shine in the literary firmament. The story is the best he has ever read, but he is afraid to publish it, because it would make all of his other contributors jealous, and they would quit him. No doubt some other publisher would be delighted to get it.

That was nineteen years ago, and we have had other stories published since—two or three of them, in fact—but this one simply cannot be put across. This week it returned from its monthly pilgrimage to New York a little more battered, a little more torn and bearing a few more thumb prints, but just as good a story as ever. Up to date it has cost us as follows:

Stamps ..... $ 197.02
Stenography, making now copies ..... 140.57
Mental anguish ..... 50,000.00
Total ..... $50,337.59

Some day, some time, somebody somewhere is going to publish that story, and when they do Robert W. Chambers, author of "The Common Law," may as well retire to the toll and uncut, for a story has got a couple in it, that never get married.

Origin of an English Custom.
Parliament's custom of assembling for a new session on Tuesday instead of on the first working day of the week originated in the religious scruples of legislators of a century ago. In 1809 it was proposed that Monday should be made the day of meeting, but Mr. William Wilberforce, M. P., for the County of York, pointed out that for himself and many other members this would involve Sunday traveling—a thing he abhorred. So the day was changed to Tuesday, and a Substantian scruple has ruled the action of parliament to an era which sees more motor cars on Sunday than on any days of the week.—London Chronicle.

Who's Mistake?
"You must have called me late this morning, Sylvia. It was 12 o'clock when I reached the office. And I had an important appointment for ten o'clock, too." "Why, I called you at 7:30, John." "Was the clock right?" "Yes; I set it last night when you came home. You remember I called downstairs when you came in and asked you what time it was. And you said 10:30. The clock in my room said 1:45 so I turned it back to agree with your watch, and, of course, I called you by the correct time this morning."

FREE DEMONSTRATION OF THE NEW METHOD

PAPER BAG COOKERY IS HERE TO STAY—MEANS REVOLUTION IN HOUSEWORK.

SHOULD INTEREST ALL

Gazette Invites Readers to Attend the Demonstrations Which Will be Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

While paper bag cookery is in its infancy in America, in England some of the leading chefs and most noted cooks have given it the seal of their approval as one of the most sanitary methods of preparing and cooking food. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, the Gazette has made arrangements to have a free demonstration of the methods used in this revolutionizing of domestic science.

Mrs. M. J. Marshment, a noted cook one of the members of the Domestic Science Exposition Company, has been engaged to give these lectures and will explain and cook all sorts of dishes in paper bags that the Janesville housewives may become acquainted with the methods used.

Experts who have investigated the new departure state that it means the revolutionizing of all existing cooking ideas. It does away with the greasy pans, the horror of the average housewife, the germ proof self-basting, self-browning, leaving no odors in the house, no mixing of flavors in the foods cooked in, the same oven and above all saves labor. In securing the services of Mrs. Marshment the Gazette hopes to aid the average housewife by showing her how to lessen her household cares and still put palatable dishes on the table. The demonstrations are absolutely free, but admission will be only by the coupon clipped from the Gazette. The first coupon, that for Thursday's demonstration appears in tonight's paper, will be found on the Woman's page. Friday's demonstration will be published Wednesday, Saturday afternoon's on Thursday and Saturday night's on Friday evening's issue of the Gazette.

This is a rare opportunity for the ladies of Janesville to learn of this new art first-hand and see it actually demonstrated. Menus will be cooked and all details of the work fully explained. Doubtless the lectures will be well attended.

The demonstration will be held in the new building owned by Leslie Treat on South Main street. They will be open to men as well as to women, but admission must be by the coupon clipped from the Gazette. The hours of the lectures will be given in Thursday night's Gazette.

U. B. BROTHERHOOD DISCUSS SUFFRAGE

Interesting Topic Debated at Regular Meeting of Otterbelle Brotherhood Last Evening.

Members of the Otterbelle Brotherhood of the United Brotherhood church enjoyed an interesting meeting at the church parlors last evening. The program for the meeting consisted of a debate on the topic: Resolved, that Women Should Have Equal Right of Suffrage. The affirmative side of the question was upheld by F. C. Penney and William Snow, while J. A. Skinner, W. J. Baker and Rev. C. J. Roberts supported the negative. The decision of the judges was for the negative.

Music for the evening was furnished by the male quartette. Following the program a social time was enjoyed.

HIGH LODGE OFFICE FOR MAYOR NICHOLS

Appointed Deputy Grand President for Eleven Counties in Recognition of Services in Lodge Here.

In recognition of his services as president of the local Aerie of Eagles which office he has held for six consecutive years, Mayor John C. Nichols has been appointed Deputy Grand Master of the lodge for eleven counties. The appointment comes from the Grand President of the order and the territory over which he will have supervision embraces the following counties: Columbia, Dane, Rock, Vernon, Crawford, Richland, Green, Iowa, Lafayette, Sauk and Grant.

The duties of the office are the same as the Grand President's and include entire supervision over the lodges in this district with the right to establish new lodges where he is so ordered. The office comes as a high honor to Mr. Nichols and the local lodge.

At a meeting of the order Thursday evening the annual election of officers will take place and a class will be initiated into the order. Arrangements for the entertainment of delegates to the state convention here next July will also be discussed.

LOCAL YOUTH WOULD ENTER WEST. POINT

Wills Sutherland of the local high school was the only one in Rock county to take the preliminary Civil Service examination for appointment to West Point Military Academy, taken under Prof. Arbuthnot last week. It is not known yet how many from this district took the examination or whether Mr. Sutherland passed and it will not be known for some time who Congressman H. A. Cooper will appoint.

SEND THE GAZETTE TO SOME FRIEND FOR CHRISTMAS

Gift Comes Every Day—Joy of Former Resident.

Have you thought what you are going to give your friends for Christmas?

Probably not, unless the "do your shopping early" admonitions have given you a dim idea that you soon must do your buying.

If you ever have had trouble in selecting gifts—and who has not?—remember, other people have the same trouble.

If you are a candidate in The Gazette prize campaign, this means something to you.

The Gazette every year receives many subscriptions taken out as Christmas gifts. A friend has lived in Janesville and moved away in another city. What would be more acceptable to them than The Gazette, giving all the latest news of the city, as well as the general news of the country and of Rock county? What could be a more suitable or more pleasurable gift?

Every Day A New Gift.

The person to whom The Gazette is sent will appreciate it every day in the year. It will be something which will come in daily use more than a piece of silverware, a bit of jewelry or a book. It will be something which will serve the whole family all the time.

This is a cue for your campaign for the remainder of this great event. Suggest The Gazette as a Christmas present to your "prospects."

The chances are that the suggestion will be received eagerly, not only as a solution but as a most suitable gift. The person who reads The Gazette knows its value, and it will not take much argument to lead him to appreciate the pleasure, satisfaction and instruction it will give to others. You can arrange it to have your Christmas subscriptions begin on Christmas day after, and so assure your subscribers that it will be a real "Christmas morning" present.

Seventeen Days.

Seventeen days until the end of the campaign! That is the length of time you have to put the finishing touches to your campaign and to clinch your advantage.

It will mean the best Christmas you ever have had if you win one of The Gazette's handsome prizes.

It will mean that you have won for yourself a valuable present and you will have just cause to be proud.

Grown-Up Children.

It is not only the trifles which the spirit of childhood is just now leading astray. Stiffness in the fashion even among the wise. Women especially affect a kind of childish shrewdness in talking of serious subjects. Like children who have the habit of romancing, they lose the sense of reality, and because they never talk exactly as they think they begin to think exactly as they talk.—London Spectator.

Art.

"Now nature is not at variance with art, nor art with nature; they being both the servants of his providence. Art is the perfection of nature. Were the world now as it was the sixth day, there were yet a chaos. Nature hath made one world and art another. In brief, all things are artificial; for nature is the art of God.—Sir Thomas Browne.

Abuse.

"Of antia I think as Epicurus did: 'If evil be said of thee, and if it be true, correct thyself; if it be a lie, laugh at it.' By dint of time and experience I have learned to be a good post-horse; I go through my appointed daily stage, and I care not for the curs who bark at me along the road.—Proudhon the Great.

Profits from Cat Breeding.

Taken all round, cat breeding is not a royal road to fortune. It is all a matter of luck, and some people may manage for a few years to make a handsome profit, but it cannot be kept up. I myself made about $50 out of my cats one year, not allowing for rent and labor, but as a rule I was out of pocket.—Ladies' Field.

AN ALARM AT NIGHT

That strikes terror to the entire household is the loud, hoarse and metallic clatter of a burglar. No mistake! It is fortunate then the lucky parents who keep Polys Honey and Tar Compound on hand. H. W. Casselman, Canton, N. Y., says: "It is worth its weight in gold. Our little children are troubled with croup and hoarseness, and all we give them is Polys Honey and Tar Compound. I always have a bottle of it in the house. Hadger Drug Co.

Wretched Pay for Labor.

At a hearing last summer in London on the "sweating" question, evidence was brought forward showing that 50 women who sewed books and cards earned at an average a little over 75 cents a week. Another woman was instance who worked from nine one morning until the next morning and earned 16 cents in that time. It would seem better to die.

Frozen Fish Revived After Months.

Interesting experiments on the possibility of suspended life for a definite period are being carried out by Prof. Roald Pfeiffer at Geneva. In one case he froze live goldfish in ice to a temperature of nine degrees Fahrenheit below zero, and three months later gradually melted the ice and brought the fish back to their natural live state. He also kept a dog frozen for an hour at a temperature of 110 degrees below the freezing point without its dying.

Cured in His Own Home Town.

Racine, Wis. Jacob Ersen tells the way for his fellow townsmen to be cured of kidney and bladder trouble as he himself was cured. "For over 20 years I had kidney trouble and catarrh of the bladder. I read an advertisement of Foley Kidney Pills, got some and took them. Before taking them I was not able to work, but now I have commenced to work again and I am improving every day. The action of my bladder was frequent and painful and I lost a great deal of sleep on that account the first part of the night, but since taking Foley Kidney Pills all this pain and annoyance has ceased, my back no longer aches and I feel better in every way. I gladly recommend Foley Kidney Pills to all who have kidney trouble. Badger Drug Co.

Gifts For the Youngsters at The Toy Store HINTERSCHIED'S

YOU MOTHERS MUST REALIZE THAT THERE IS NOTHING THAT GIVES GREATER PLEASURE TO THE LITTLE ONES THAN A HANDSOME DOLL. IT IS THE ONE BEST GIFT FOR A CHILD.

The doll display, as seen here, is enough to stock a fair sized store; more than you'll find under one roof anywhere else in Southern Wisconsin. Direct importations on many of the various lines saves us several middlemen's profits and the benefit reverts to you. You'll find you'll be able to buy better dolls at a lower price here than elsewhere. And the early shopping spirit is in the air.

Handsome 34-inch doll, jointed waist, knees, shoulders, elbows, wrists. All joints are universal and will turn in any direction. Curly hair, natural eye lashes and eye brows (not painted) sleeping eyes, body has natural tint, fitted with lace half hose and slippers. This is the largest doll in the line and is priced very moderately at $6.

Smaller sizes, made exactly like the $6.00 doll, and all have the hair, eyebrows and lashes, which is a new feature for this year and is much superior to the painted eyebrows, at prices ranging down to the 22-inch size, at $2.

Full Kid Body doll, 30-inch, jointed knees, hips and arms, natural eyebrows and lashes, sleeping eyes, curly hair, slippers and stockings. 30 inches high $3.75

Smaller sizes, a complete line, made exactly alike except for size, all priced exceptionally low, considering the quality. The line runs down as low as 14-inch size, at 50c.

CHARTER BABIES, the latest doll craze, the hit of the year, 10c 15c, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

HUNDREDS OF OTHERS.

Doll bodies and doll heads, a great big line, all sizes, all styles, including the metal or unbreakable heads, bisque, china, etc., 15c to $1.50.

Dressed Dolls Were Never Prettier

The line this season runs the whole gamut of desires. We have practically everything in dressed dolls that is desirable. Dresses of sheer linen, of silks and satin, and laces and spangles, with and without hats, and furs of marabow, etc. Each doll boxed separately. Prices, 10c to $4.00.

Doll Buggies

The manufacturers this season have put out the all steel collapsible go carts, which are far superior to the old wooden kind and will outwear them three to one. Frames of steel, fitted with imitation leather, 50c to $3.00.

English Go Carts or Preambulators at $2.50 to $5.

Doll Furniture

Steel beds with wire springs, 10c.
Steel beds with wire springs, at 50c, 75c and $1.

CITRUS FRUITS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

Winter oranges have not yet really reached the height of their season and the fruit although large and in fine condition does not have the fine flavor which the later ones do. About holiday time the California and Florida oranges will be in the best shape of the year and from then on are excellent both in size and flavor.
Grapefruit is similar to the oranges in this respect in that the best time of the year for them is after Christmas. They are very nice for this time of the year and come into the market somewhat earlier than last year. Those who enjoy these fruits for their breakfasts will be glad to know that an extra fine crop is expected this season and the growers hope that it will be a long one.

Your Spine is an Index TO YOUR HEALTH

IF IT'S OUT OF LINE YOU'RE OUT OF TUNE. CHIROPRACTIC STRAIGHTENS THE SPINE AND YOU GET WELL.

To have a normal, harmoniously working body the spinal bones must be in a perfect line. Subluxation, like one in cut No. 2, will press on the spinal cord, cause homiplegia, neckache, headache, insomnia, dizziness, deafness, etc.

HEART AND LIVER.

Your spine is the cause of the heart or liver giving so much trouble and causing untold worry. Why worry over your physical condition longer? Chiropractic is the only natural method for the permanent relief from disease.

The first hand in cut No. 12, points to the second dorsal which, when out of its proper position, will cause any of the disorders common to the heart, angina pectoris, hypertrophy, valvular trouble, etc. The second hand points to the fourth dorsal, showing it to be subluxated, shutting off the flow of life current to the liver and gall bladder. We make a thorough analysis of spines FREE. Come in and let us explain the merits of this wonderful science. Have your spine adjusted, put the bones in their proper places, by doing so, prevent disease as well as banish. Diseases of the liver yield readily to Chiropractic. Gall stones, jaundice, enlargement, etc.

Cut No. 11 shows the cause of stomach trouble in any form. Read what Mrs. Greene has to say:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have been a sufferer with stomach trouble for many years, since taking a course of Chiropractic adjustments from Puddicombe & Imlay, have been entirely rid of the stomach disorders for which I had up to the time I called upon the Chiropractors, found little or no relief.

WOMAN'S PAGE

HEART AND HOME TALKS
BY BARBARA BOYD

One Girl's Standard of Work.

Now if I should make a failure," said a young woman who was starting out as a milliner, "it will be my own fault. People want hats. They want them pretty, tasteful, becoming, and not unreasonable as to price. If I can give them what they want, there is no danger but that I will succeed. If I fail, it will be my own fault."

This girl is going about her work in a practical way that means success. It returns are not up to expectations, she will look to herself and her work to see what is wrong, instead of blaming the public for not appreciating her wares.

She is right in saying the public want tasteful, becoming and not too expensive hats. She has sure ground here to go upon. If she meets these conditions, and gives the public what it wants, she cannot but succeed.

Other women who have a living to make can profit by the example of this girl. If they will look about them as she did, to see what it is their community wants, and then go practically about supplying it, they are starting on the road to success. But they must give what the people want, not what they think they ought to have. If they have some, unrealistic ideal which they believe it would be well for the public to assimilate, probably they may mix in a little of it with their work, if it is done judiciously and not in too large doses. Or if the desire they cherish is really valuable and helpful, it may, when sprung upon the public, take its place in the main, the public is a very practical composite, and instantly its needs satisfied practically. Raw food may be more beneficial, but it is not so palatable as the cooked food. And the woman who has, as a living, to make had better heed the signs of the times.

It is this wrong attitude that is often the cause of the failure of those who start out to earn a living. The artist who fails to sell his illustrations blames publishers and art editors for lack of artistic appreciation. Perhaps they do look it. But if they say they want a certain thing, the artist who hopes to earn his living had better give them what they want; instead of presenting them with something the direct opposite of their orders, and then blaming their disapproval on their lack of artistic feeling.

No doubt could we make this world over, we could, as old Omar says, greatly improve it. But this isn't the task we are set to do. We mostly have our living to make. And if we wish to succeed, we had better go about it in the sensible, practical fashion of this girl, who sees clearly and without illusions what her world wants in the work she has elected to take up, and who is honest enough to admit that if she fails, the fault will be with herself.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

There is a certain portion of my ancient history which I don't think I shall forget to my dying day. It is the description of the way in which the barbarians punished an offending general. He was chained down on the desert, face upwards under the burning African sun, then his eyeballs were cut out and he was left powerless to turn his eyes from the terrible rays, to suffer until he died or went mad.

Horrible, isn't it? And yet, sometime I was reminded of it when several of my letter friends urged me to speak up for the babies whose mothers, fathers and caretakers, while not intending to be cruel, actually do mistreat the little ones, by exposing their eyes to glaring light.

Writes one woman, "Can you exhaust mothers to shade the eyes of their babies from bright light? I can often see poor babies blinking that I have you can protect. The little eyes are so weak and so easily injured. I once met a man in the business streets wheeling a baby stroller back to the blazing sunshine, so that the child was blinking and blinking in evident discomfort. I mustered courage to say, 'Your baby's eyes!' He promptly and emphatically replied, 'The sunshine is good for him.' Of course, it is good for his body but not for his eyes. I know a man who went blind, because he was left asleep outdoors with the sun shining in his eyes."

Surely this is something about which mothers and fathers cannot be too careful. Yes, of course, seven-eighths of them are already taking every precaution.

But it isn't for those that this is written. I was calling on a neighbor of mine the other day, when her little boy, who is only four years and a half old, came home from an errand on which she had sent him.

"The errand was one which had taken a ten minutes' walk, including two crossings."

"How do you ever dare let him cross those streets?" I questioned. "I wouldn't," said the mother, "if it were not for the training we have given him. Phillip never steps into the street until he has carefully looked both ways and seen that nothing is coming."

"Ever since he was old enough to know anything at all, I have trained him that way until it is just as much a habit as it is for him to eat with a spoon instead of with his fingers. Even when he is playing and his ball rolls into the street, he never runs out after it until he has looked both ways to see if the road is clear. Of course, it has taken a good bit of talking, instilling and some punishments, but I think it has all been worth while, for I feel so safe about him. Besides I think the habit is one which will be good for him to have all his life."

Since that day I have seen Phillip alone two or three times and seen him cross the street in just the manner his mother described, so I am sure she has reason for her confidence.

Now, don't you think her method of inculcating a habit of carefulness is a better way to guard a child's safety, than simply to grasp his hand when you come to a crossing and tow him willy-nilly across?

Of course training him across is a very simple and safe way when you are with him, but you can't always be with him, especially as he grows older, whereas the habit of looking both ways before he tries to cross a street, if deeply enough inculcated, will be his constant companion.

Phillip's mother said further that even when she and his father were out walking with him they did not take hold of his hand at a crossing, but simply reminded him to look sharp, and thus taught him to assume responsibility.

When one sees adults alight from a car and start to the sidewalk or launch themselves into a busy thoroughfare, looking neither to the right nor left, one can fully endorse the idea that this habit of keeping his eyes open will be a unique and much to be desired safeguard to Phillip.

And incidentally to any other child.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Care of Cleansers and Cookers. Dry Mops and Dust Brushes.

By Alice E. Whitaker

Vacuum cleaners are so much used now that the question of where to store them comes up in many households. These useful machines are without exception somewhat awkward to move about and the housekeeper generally prefers to keep her cleaner on the lower floor and to take the upper floor rugs down to it for the weekly cleaning and but occasionally taking it up stairs. Yet the cleaner really ought to go to all floors each week as there are so many ways to use it when it is at hand.

A cleaner cannot be safely stored in a small closet with carpet sweeper, broom, dust pan and perhaps an umbrella dumped on it, neither must the hose be bent sharply making it liable to break and leak. Here it may be noted that one common fault in using a cleaner is to hurry the nozzle using a rug or other surface in a sort of scrubbing motion which is the very demonstration show-off a cleaner, and the buyer thinks she must adopt. Nothing is gained by it and it is much easier and better to press the mouth of the tube slowly back and forth the surface until it is all covered.

Manufacturers of fireless cookers advise with emphasis the need of leaving the cookers open a good part of the time when not in use. But many housekeepers close them in their desire to have an orderly kitchen. The cooker is made almost air tight and if closed, any odor of the food previously cooked and which clings to metal more or less, will be held in it and be likely to have a slight influence on the taste of other food. Kitchen sanitation has reached the point where kettles and sauce pans are no longer shut away closely covered in dark sink cup boards. The old fashioned iron kettle was usually put away covered and always needed a scrubbing before using because it would be stale and rusty. The fireless cooker must be wiped free from moisture at once after use and then left open. In other words it should have the same good care that is given to a sauce pan.

If there is a dark cupboard or closet in the house paint its walls and shelves with common white paint and then give them a coat of any enamel or glossy white paint. In a food closet treated in this way crumbs and drops may be detected at once and removed with a damp cloth. If it is a storage place for linens or packages the contents can be seen easily in the white interior and this saves time in looking for things.

The wisdom of having pantry shelves uncovered, needs repeating often for too many housewives yet cling to the plan of covering shelves with paper or old green gingham papers along the edges. Then they complain of occasional insect pests and of the odor of keeping the shelves neat. If covered simply with enamel paint an occasional wiping with a damp cloth will keep everything clean. If there are cracks or seams about the shelves fill them with putty before painting then there will be no lurking place for ants, roaches or dust.

The floors of closets also need looking after. The straw matting or oil cloth that appears so neat may furnish hiding place for huffing lice and moths. "Take the carpet up and fill every crack up especially where the base board joins the floor, with putty then put varnish stain or paint on the floor and at intervals wipe it over with a cloth wrung from cold water as dry as possible. This will take up the dust and not cause dampness. It pays to fix a closet like this even in an apartment that is rented and is not a permanent home, for it is well established that insect pests rise in their travels whenever they have a chance, and there is no knowing what may be in the rooms below.

The dry mop, shaped exactly like a dish mop, so useful for hardwood floors and borders round rugs, should be washed occasionally with plenty of soap and water rinsed well and hung out of doors to dry. Shake it now and then while drying. If used every day this mop will keep rooms tidy between the regular sweeping days and it is almost impossible to injure furniture with it. When buying look for one made of fine twine; it is not so common as the coarser kind but takes up dust more thoroughly.

If there are many pictures in the house, especially in gold frames, use a large soft paint brush to keep them free from dust. Rubbing over with a cloth grinds the dust into the gold and dulls and defaces the frames and a feather duster but half cleans them. The paint brush is also the best means of cleaning what comes under the head of bric-a-brac and it must also be washed now and then.

Wants 16th Term as Mayor
Newport, R. I., Dec. 5.—A count of the ballots in the city election here today will determine whether P. J. Boyle, who has served fourteen terms as mayor of Newport, is to head the municipal government during a fifteenth term. In consequence of a reform movement that has been under way for some time Mayor Boyle encountered more opposition in his candidacy this year than heretofore. Opposing him on the ballot were P. P. Garretson, a former mayor, and J. P. Mahoney, a member of the board of aldermen.

MONODIET IN TREATING SKIN DISEASES.

The medical journals are reporting the success of Buckley in the treatment of inflammatory conditions of the skin by limiting the diet to rice and bread and water. I have frequently shown the application of the principle of the monodiet to the treatment of skin diseases in common with others, and particularly in eczema. Rice and bread, being cereals and therefore harmonious, must give the benefit of the monodiet in the treatment of any disease. The importance of the monodiet, both in health and in disease, is being gradually impressed upon both lay and professional men.

HOUSEKEEPING TIPS.

Keep all the old whisks brooms for sink brushes.

Kerosene rubbed on a cloth will clean zinc nicely. Also applied to both tubs of porcelain will cleanse from all grime. Rinse in hot water. Washing lamp chimneys by immersing them in hot water makes them brittle. Steam the chimneys over a teakettle spout and rub dry with an old linen cloth.

Keep a bowl of cold water at hand in which to dip the hands when picking over or hulling fruit for canning.

Old pieces of flannel make fine floor cloths and may be used for broom bags and mops.

To remove potato, onion and other vegetable stains from the hands, rub with a slice of tomato.

Skim the fat off from the chicken broth and save it for shortening. It is fine for biscuits.

Some times it is almost impossible to drive a nail in hard wood, but if it is first rubbed with soap it will slide in much easier.

When mending holes in lace curtains a darn shows so plainly, but a piece of lace as near like the curtain as possible put under the hole and ironed down after dampening with raw starch water will stay and be unnoticed. Trim the edges around the hole after ironing.

All wood ashes should be saved and put on the lawn in the fall to sweeten the soil. They are an addition to the garden. Dampen them before spreading, to keep the wind from blowing them away.

All tubers should be put in early enough to get a start before the hard frosts come or there will be poor blossoms on the tulips next spring.

Watch the canned fruit, by looking the cans over occasionally. Any that is spoiling may be reclaimed by re-heat.

SERVICE.

IT IS one of the features of our times that so many young college women instead of choosing the parasitic life, are working for social well-being. At a meeting of the Consumers' League, held recently here in Washington through the effort of some young women of the National League, Florence Kelley, secretary of the National League, in addressing them spoke eloquently of the service of a graduate of Bryn Mawr, worked in laundries during the hot summer from early morning until long after midnight, and hired out as an emigrant servant in a boarding house, and then as a laborer in a cannery. Made an officer of the State Labor Department she met her death in an automobile accident last September while inspecting labor camps at Connorsville, N. Y. Marjorie Johnson, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is another self-sacrificing worker under Mrs. Kelley's direction. She has gone into the candy shops and department stores and worked beside the shop girls during the long, trying holiday season that she might get arguments and data for the legal regulation of hours and conditions for which the Consumers' League stands.

In the well-known Oregon and Illinois cases which Louis D. Brandeis argued for the Consumers' League, Josephine Goldmark, Mrs. Brandeis' sister, collected and edited under her brother-in-law's direction, the vast amount of material on which the case was won, drawn from every civilized country, to material on which the case was won, drawn from every civilized country, to show from world experience the effect of industrial strain upon the health of women.

These are specific instances. Throughout the organizations for social betterment there are women workers. Just as they have unselfishly devoted themselves to the making of the individual home, they are now laboring for the welfare of the larger human family.

GIFT SUGGESTIONS

By ROSE TENNILL

While embroidery and various forms of art work have to a large measure taken the place of the crocheted work which was once so popular they have by no means been entirely ousted from favor. The many beautiful patterns of Irish crochet are being adapted to all kinds of uses. In most fancy goods shops the small separate motifs can be bought and with a little care can be worked into beautiful gifts. There is a fancy for opera bags made of a very heavy thread using the regular Irish crochet pattern. Collars are still being made of this most beautiful lace and any girl would appreciate a sailor collar finished with it. If you have no time for an elaborate bit of work you might make a couple of years ago at intervals about a broad sailor collar. Finish the edge with buttonhole stitch and join the roses with a running design of chain stitch which is coming back into favor.

No girl will receive more collars than she can use and so if you are at a loss what gift to give the girl you admire settle on a collar. I know one dainty girl who has made a reputation for dressing on the daintiness and variety of her collars. The same dress seems to be new when the delicate froth collar decorates it. The shape shown is a little newer than the plain large sailor collar and no collar is quite so large as it was a year ago. The adept with the crochet needle may also make a skirt for the baby or little girl like that shown. To make requires two or three hunks of four-fold white Germantown yarn and a half hank of pink or blue for the edge. Make a chain the length about two width and join. For the first round make one single crochet in each of the first six stitches; three single stitches in the seventh stitch and six more singles in the following six of chain. Skip one stitch and repeat all around the chain, joining the last stitch to the first with a slip stitch. For the second row: Skip one stitch, make one single crochet through each of the next six stitches and three single stitches through the seventh make one through the back half of each of the next six stitches, skip two and repeat around the skirt.

Continue in this same way till the skirt is long enough. Crutch the waist in single stitch, until long enough and make the straps in single stitch. Finish the edge with a row of each of the colored yarn and the simple little skirt is finished.

Knitted and crocheted jackets for babies have almost gone out of fashion save in the form of refters. These are made in every size and the knitted ones in very coarse yarn and a plain stitch without ornaments are in the greatest favor. Nothing could be prettier for a girl than a sweater knit of heavy yarn, on coarse needles in white or maroon. Do not make the mistake of adding borders of colors to white or white to colors. Solid colors are the favorite wear. A heavy close-fitting cap very much in the shape of a smoking cap is worn. This is not finished with a tassel, but with a thick pom-pom of silk of the same shade finishes the top. The boy's sweater differs from the girl's sweater only in size.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

POSTAGE RATES IN 1824.

By A. W. MACY.

In 1824 the U. S. government charged six cents for carrying a single letter 33 miles, or less. For more than 33 and less than 80 miles it charged ten cents. From 80 to 150 miles the charge was 12½ cents, and from 150 to 400 miles, 18½ cents. For all distances over 400 miles the uniform rate was 25 cents. By a "single" letter was meant, so the department explained, one containing "one piece of paper." When two pieces were inclosed, the charge was doubled; when three pieces, it was tripled, and so on. A charge of one cent was made for carrying each copy of a newspaper 100 miles, or less, and a cent and a half for more than 100 miles. At that time there were about 80,000 miles of post office roads, and the mails were carried on stages about 21,000 miles. There were 5,240 post offices. John McLean was postmaster-general, at a salary of $4,000 a year. He had two assistants at $2,500 each; one chief clerk at $1,700, one bookkeeper at $1,300, twenty-two ordinary clerks at from $800 to $1,400 each, and two messengers, one at $700 and the other at $350.

A cough remedy that saves you $2, and is guaranteed to give quicker, better results than anything else, is surely worth trying. And one trial will show you why Pinex is used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy. You will be pleasantly surprised by the way it takes right hold of a cough, giving almost instant relief. It will quickly stop the most obstinate, deep-seated cough in 24 hours, and is unequalled for prompt results in whooping cough.

A 2-cent bottle of Pinex, when mixed with home-made sugar syrup, makes a full pint of the best cough remedy ever used. Easily prepared in five minutes—directions in package.

The taste is pleasant—children take it willingly. Stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Pinex is for croup, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, and a highly successful remedy for incipient lung troubles.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract, rich in quinine and other natural healing pine elements. Simply mix with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a pint bottle, and it is ready for use.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, or nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will gladly get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
